Service of Celtic Worship
March 3, 2019

A joint ministry of
St. James’s Episcopal Church and
St. John’s Episcopal Church

679 Farmington Avenue
West Hartford, Connecticut
Celtic Worship

Welcome!

We are delighted that you have joined us today – we cherish your attendance.

To prepare for worship, our time this afternoon commences with a period of silence, which you may enjoy in any way that is meaningful to you: prayer, meditation or simple reflection. We ask that you observe this silence immediately upon entering and turn off all electronic devices.

There are several stations of interest around the church that you may visit at any time before, during or after the service. You may wish to light a candle at the candle station, browse the Celtic station icons and information, or write a prayer request for yourself or others at the prayer station. Know that your written prayers will be prayed in the coming days by members of the Celtic Worship Guild.

During the period of extended silence later in our worship, healing ministers will be available to offer you the prayer or blessing you ask for.

Children are welcome at our worship.

At 4:50 p.m., a singing bowl tone will break our preparatory silence and today’s service will commence.
The theme for our worship this month is Silence.

Words of Welcome

The Reverend Susan Pinkerton

Opening Prayer

Read by Mary Cole

“Not speaking and speaking are both human ways of being in the world, and there are kinds and grades of each. There is the dumb silence of slumber or apathy; the sober silence that goes with a solemn animal face; the fertile silence of awareness, pasturing the soul, whence emerge new thoughts; the alive silence of alert perception, ready to say, “This... this...”; the musical silence that accompanies absorbed activity; the silence of listening to another speak, catching the drift and helping him be clear; the noisy silence of resentment and self-recrimination, loud and subvocal speech but sullen to say it; baffled silence; the silence of peaceful accord with other persons or communion with the cosmos.”

Simple Gifts
Traditional/Shaker (Elder Joseph Brackett, 1848)

Please stand.

Tis the gift to be simple, ’tis the gift to be free
’tis the gift to come down where you ought to be
And when we find ourselves in the place just right
’Twill be in the valley of love and delight.

When true simplicity is gained
To bow and to bend we shan’t be ashamed
To turn, turn will be our delight
’Till by turning, turning we come round right.

Please be seated.

In Silence by Thomas Merton

Be still.
Listen to the stones of the wall.
Be silent, they try to speak your name.
Listen
to the living walls.

Who are you?
Who are you? Whose silence are you?

Who (be quiet)
are you (as these stones are quiet). Do not think of what you are still less of what you may one day be.

Rather
be what you are (but who?)
be the unthinkable one
you do not know.
O be still, while
you are still alive,
and all things live around you speaking (I do not hear)
to your own being,
speaking by the unknown
that is in you and in themselves.

“I will try, like them
to be my own silence:
and this is difficult. The whole world is secretly on fire. The stones burn, even the stones they burn me.
How can a man be still or listen to all things burning?
How can he dare to sit with them
when all their silence is on fire?”

Chanting
Led by Norb Spencer

Om Ah Hum Vajra Guru Padma Siddhi Hum

Om is the primal vibration out of which all things come and into which all things will be re-absorbed, the highest expression of consciousness.

Ah is the primal state of the spirit, the female aspect, the mother fully expressed in divine wisdom, without thought.

Hum is the root vibration, the descent from universality (Om) into the human heart.

Vajra is the energy that the enlightened mind holds. Like a thunderbolt or diamond, it can cut through anything.

Guru is the wise teacher.

Padma is the lotus, representing the pureness of the enlightened mind. This is due to the lotus’s ability to grow purely in muddy waters, just like the enlightened mind is surrounded by delusions, greed, and hatred found in the sentient world.

Siddhi is the term used to represent an accomplishment.

Silence

We enter now into an extended period of silence, which you are invited to use in whatever way you are called today. You are welcome to sit or move about the church in silent prayer, meditation, or reflection.

Feel free to visit all of the stations. Write a prayer request, light a candle, contemplate upon the Celtic saints, or pray with a healing minister near the baptismal font.

Intercessory Prayers
Led by Sarah Kieffer
Please stand and join in reading the text that is printed in bold. You are invited to raise your own prayers, either silently or aloud for all to hear, in the periods of silence during the Intercessory Prayers.

Holy One, you are the source of all that is within us, among us, and beyond us. Give us your sacred silence in the early morning, in the late of night, and even in the din of day. Let us be emptied and filled in the silence. Hear our words. Hear our silence.

Open up our eyes to your gift of the earth’s beauty and harmony. Make us ever mindful of the earth’s fragility. Teach us to faithfully steward this gift and to share the earth’s bounty with all your creatures. Hear our words. Hear our silence.

Imbue us with gratitude for what we have. Make us aware of those among us, near and far, who are without. Hear our words. Hear our silence.

Heal all who are sick or hurt. Comfort all who suffer. Shelter all who are in danger. Give speed to justice for all who wait for it. Grow our compassion and make us your agents in these mighty works. Hear our words. Hear our silence.

Help us hold fast to the love we have for those who have died. Perpetuate this love in our hearts and give it the power to sustain us. Hear our words. Hear our silence.

Touch us with your presence in our lives. Connect us in the joy of oneness with you. Make each of one of us a thread on your loom. Hear our words. Hear our silence.

Closing Prayer

Read by Mary Cole

Please be seated.

Now we will count to twelve and we will all keep still. For once on the face of the earth, let’s not speak in any language; let’s stop for one second, and not move our arms so much. It would be an exotic moment without rush, without engines; we would all be together in a sudden strangeness. Fisherman in the cold sea would not harm whales and the man gathering salt would look at his hurt hands. Those who prepare green wars, wars with gas, wars with fire, victories with no survivors, would put on clean clothes and walk about with their brothers in the shade, doing nothing. What I want should not be confused with total inactivity. Life is what it is about; I want no truck with death. If we were not so single-minded about keeping our lives moving, and for once could do nothing, perhaps a huge silence might interrupt this sadness of never understanding ourselves and of threatening ourselves with death. Perhaps the earth can teach us as when everything seems dead and later proves to be alive. Now I'll count up to twelve and you keep quiet and I will go.

Celtic Blessing
